Annie's trying to find another witch to work with, but when she comes back home to find one, she meets Henry as well. The one person that Annie Pedus needs is Henry, but do either of them know it? He is enamored with this woman that has tracked him down. He can't stop thinking about her violet eyes and wide hips sends him over the edge. He can't resist her any of her many temptations. They must fight the Uleli army, a force of witches bent on destruction. Annie's old lover, Israel, is the only one that can get in between Annie and Henry, in more ways than one. When Israel threatens Annie, Henry shows his true feelings for her.
